Terms of Use

The present document describes the terms of use for the www.milsatservices.de site. Please read with attention the terms of use contained herein. The service is provided only for persons of 18 years or more or minors with parental authorisation. By accessing the page <http://www.milsatservices.de> and clicking on the logo you declare that you are authorised and that you accept the totality of the terms of use. This site is offered on condition of your accepting unconditionally the terms, conditions and warnings hereafter:

Limitation of responsibilities

Some elements of information and services offered or available through the site may be technically inexact or contain typing errors. MilSat Services does not declare nor guarantee that the site will operate without interruption or is free of errors, that possible errors will be corrected or that the site or the server that allows access to it will be exempt from viruses or other damaging elements. MilSat Services does not declare nor guarantee that the use or result of the use of the site or elements available through the intermediary of the services are correct, exact, timely or reliable.

Authors' rights - Copyright

The totality of this site is covered by German and international legislation concerning author and intellectual property rights. All rights to reproduction are reserved, including those for the documents available for download and the iconographical and photographic representations (all rights not expressly conceded are reserved). The reproduction of texts from this site onto a paper or electronic medium is authorised, particularly regarding educational purposes, provided that the three following conditions are respected:

Freedom of diffusion

Respect for the integrity of the documents reproduced: no modifications nor alterations of any kind. Clear and readable quotations of the source in the following form: "This document is taken from the Astrium internet site [<http://www.milsatservices.de> ]". The rights for reproduction are reserved and strictly limited. For other uses please contact the webmaster. The trademarks quoted on this site are registered by the companies that own them.

Alterations to the Terms of Use

Users are informed that the service is provided free of charge. Consequently MilSat Services reserves the right to modify, interrupt, or suspend its services, either temporarily or permanently. The user accepts not to hold MilSat Services responsible regarding itself or a third party for any alteration, interruption or suspension of services.

Links to third-party sites

This site may contain links towards other web sites (third-party web sites). MilSat Services does not have any control over these sites and does not assume any responsibility for their content or the content of a link from a third-party link. Moreover, MilSat Services is not responsible for any alteration or update concerning these sites. MilSat Services is not responsible for the transformation of information sent to internet users from these sites. These links to third party sites are offered for your commodity. The insertion of links to these sites does not mean that MilSat Services approves of the content of these sites et and does not imply any association between MilSat Services and the managers of third party sites.
